Observations... From Around Town

(BY JAY WHOZIT)

A visit to the new Youth Center building is truly a revelation. It proves the truth of the old adage, that there is no such word as "can't". It proves that anything can be done, if you have the determination and courage to carry through even in the face of numerous difficulties, and we want to say here and now that the teen-agers of our city should really be grateful to Mr. Joe B. Burrows, who fathered the idea of a youth center here in Bay St. Louis and has given many hours of his time and finances to see it through to its successful completion. . . . If you are a lover of good music you will have two opportunities to hear: some when the Bay High School band directed by Mr. George Wimberly gives its spring concert tonight at Bay High Auditorium and again on next Thursday night, April 7th when Brother Romuald presents his Stanislaus band in its annual spring concert at St. Joseph Academy Memorial Hall. . . . plans for the building of the new yacht club house and yacht basin are going forward steadily and the committee in charge should have something definite to report in the near future. . . . and, what about your Red Cross contributions? . . . perhaps you will be interested in knowing that we are still approximately $1300 short of meeting our quota. . . . if you haven't present in your contribution, do so now, or if you have and you feel you can afford just a little more, add it in at once and it will be greatly appreciated. . . . the public schools of Hancock County will hold their annual Field Meet on next Tuesday, April 7th at St. Stanislaus Academy. Competition in the elementary grades will begin at 9 o'clock and for the high school grades at one o'clock, so be sure to come out and cheer your school on to victory. . . . often we hear the citizens of Hancock County complain about the lack of interest shown by public officials in the welfare of their constituents and about the things these same officials fail to do, but never do you hear them say anything about their own lack of interest in their community. . . . in this connection we want to remind you readers about a meeting that was held here last Friday night, at which members of the press and radio were present, and which had been publicized through this paper and the mailing of several hundred notices to private individuals, and how many of these citizens were present at the meeting? . . . just about twenty-five or thirty. . . . a swell demonstration of your lack of interest and cooperation, and still you expect to see your town grow and prosper, better wake up to reality, folks, and show that you, too, are interested in what goes on in your community. . . . the annual spring pilgrimage of the Coast Council of Garden Clubs will visit the Bay St. Louis-Waveland area on Sunday, April 17th, and you are asked to make a favorable impression on the hundreds of visitors expected to visit here at that time and Mayor Carver, while we are on the subject of clean-up campaigns, how about having your men clean all the streets in town where mud, sand and even grass are piled up at the edge of the sidewalks, this is piled up here by rain water and is worse in sections of town where there is not proper drainage.

Natchez Diocesan Council To Meet April 10th. in Jackson, Miss.

The Natchez Diocesan Council of the National Council of Catholic Women will hold their annual board meeting on Palm Sunday, April 10th with headquarters at the Walthall Hotel, Jackson, Mrs. J. A. Hoffman, president stated.

Mrs. Hoffman also stated that the diocesan board of directors will have a closed meeting Saturday evening, at eight o'clock, at which time everyone entitled to vote should be present. On Sunday the session will be opened to the ladies of the diocese of Natchez.

Most Rev. Bishop R. O. Gerow, Bishop of Natchez, will celebrate the D. V. Mass at 10 o'clock. The remainder of the program includes: Morning session at 10 A. M., luncheon at 12:30; afternoon session will be at 3:30 p. m. and the closing at 4:50 p. m.

Hotel reservations may be made direct to the Walthall Hotel, stated Mrs. Hoffman or to Mrs. Byron Hetrick, 1236 Bailey Avenue, Jackson, not later than April 8th. Luncheon reservations should be made to Mrs. Mary Gwinup, 200 Ridge Drive, Jackson, Miss., not later than April 8th.

Activities sponsored by the National Catholic Welfare Conference, and social problems confronting the world today will have a place in the program. Reports from diocesan committee chairmen will also be heard, Mrs. Hoffman said.

Hancock County Public Schools Field Meet At Stanislaus Stadium, Thursday, April 7

When starter Robert Camors fires the gun Thursday April 7th, 1949 at 9 A. M. sharp, the greatest Field Meet for Public Schools of the County will be on the way. The events for Grammar Schools will be completed from 9 A. M. to 12 Noon. At 1 P. M. Mr. Camors will again fire the gun for the opening event of the second half of the meet.

The result of the Cross Country Relays won by Dedaux and Waveland in their respective classes show that the County Schools have decided to take their Athletics more seriously. They have improved vastly in the past three years and the coming meet promises keen competition. Reports from Kihn, Dedaux, Sellers and Bay High indicate the boys and girls have been getting themselves ready and, from the present outlook, it is a toss-up between the High Schools as to which one will be returned the winner.

Waveland, Lakeshore, Clermont Harbor, Logtown, Aaron Academy, Leetown and Catahoula have all been working to take honors in the Elementary Grades and the competition is bound to be keen. Little Evelyn Frierson of Aaron Academy won the Individual Trophy last year for the highest scorer on the field. In so doing she made a remarkable record and she will be worth watching again this year.

This year instead of only one trophy being given for the best athlete in High and Grammar Schools there will be two for each division; one for the boys and one for the girls in each classification.

Bro. Alexis of St. Stanislaus College will be Honorary Referee of the Meet.

Mayor Warren Carver will be Honorary Referee of the Meet.

Supt. Ed. Breland will be referee. Father Toner in charge of Track Events.

Robert Camors, Starter.

Brother Flavian and Bro. Linus, Finish Judges.

Mr. Dubuisson will be Official Scorer.

Coach Pete Burt in charge of Broad Jump for girls.

Coach Dick Thames, High jump for girls.

Mr. John Scafide, Broad Jump for boys.

J. V. Morreale and A. J. Chiniche, High Jump for boys.

Mr. Vincent Morreale will be in general charge of Field.

Medals to be presented immediately after each event.

It is the intention to present the Gold, Silver and Bronze medals for 1st, 2nd and 3rd places at the conclusion of each event. On reporting to Chief Scorer Dubuisson the medals will be presented to the winners.

The Boys Scouts who did such great work during the Relay will again be in evidence doing good work on the field helping the different officials.

Receive Ratings In Piano Festival at Pascagoula

Temple Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Grady Perkins rated superior in Sophomore piano and Sylvia Harton, rated very good in Freshman piano at the Regional Piano Festival held on Saturday last week at Pascagoula, Miss. Polly Gibbs, Professor of Music at Louisiana State University, was the judge.

The custom of making awards in these competitive piano festivals has been discarded and the students who enter are given a rating instead.

Again Bay St. Louis has reason to be proud of some of its young students and much may be expected of these winners in the future.

Most Rev. Bishop R. O. Gerow, Bishop of Natchez, will celebrate the D. V. Mass at 10 o'clock. The remainder of the program includes: Morning session at 10 A. M., luncheon at 12:30; afternoon session will be at 3:30 p. m. and the closing at 4:50 p. m.

GARDEN PILGRIMAGE PLANS FOR BAY- WAVELAND COMPLETED

The committee in charge of plans for the Coast Pilgrimage in the Bay-Waveland section report all plans completed and preparations for entertaining several hundred persons. The Pilgrimage will visit the Bay-Waveland section on Sunday, April 17th.

The Annual Pilgrimage has been well publicized with posters placed in all public places and small cards announcing dates and cities participating placed on tables along with menus in the large hotels and restaurants.

In Bay St. Louis, St. Augustine's beautiful grounds and chapel will be open to visitors, as well as the picturesque Holzer home, known as "Bel-Air" and located on South Beach Boulevard. The Litoff gardens and landscaped grounds will be open to visitors, and young people in costumes will be on hand to greet visitors and serve refreshments.

A station along the Highway will be manned by members of Boy Scout Troops who will distribute literature regarding the Pilgrimage.

It is hoped that in cooperation with the Pilgrimage Plans everyone will join in the Clean-Up Campaign and prepare their yards and gardens to look their best and give a pleasing memory to visitors in this section during this time.

In line with a meeting called last week when local people were advised of the great advantages of tourist trade and remembering that Natchez and New Orleans have both become nationally known for their spring pilgrimages, it is hoped that the citizens of this section will interest themselves in the Coast Council of Garden Clubs' growing efforts towards enlarging this annual pilgrimage and attracting tourists and visitors to our section of the country.

Walter Williams, news commentator of Radio Station WSMB in New Orleans, made a special trip to Bay St. Louis last Thursday night to be present at the Travel Promotion Meeting held at the Courthouse.

Mr. Williams stressed the point that what this section definitely needed was more publicity of our tourist attractions. He stated that advertisement of our community by means of the radio was positively the best means of bringing more business to our home town merchants.

Funeral services for S/JC Alfred O. King

Funeral services were held here on Tuesday afternoon for S/JC Alfred O. King, U. S. Navy, whose body arrived from overseas on Monday at 6:50 p. m.

S/JC King was the son of Clyde King and the late Mrs. King and was a native of West Virginia. He had been on overseas duty for a year. Religious services were conducted by Rev. E. P. Desmond at the Fahey Funeral Home, at St. Mary's cemetery where the burial was held.

The body was in charge of the Clement R. Bontemps, Post 139, American Legion and he was given full military honors.

Surviving, besides his father, is a sister Mrs. Emile Piazza of this city.

Red Cross Fund Drive Lagging

The American Red Cross Fund Drive will have to be extended in order to meet Hancock County's quota, which at this time is about $1300.00 short due to the slow and relatively meagre response to the appeals for contributions. Chairman Stevenson and his co-workers have been working indefatigably, but the local lag in giving is far greater than was to be expected from the people of our community and the canvass is being continued in full force in the hope that our quota can be completed within the next few weeks.

This should be easily possible if those who have not yet given can be reached by the canvassers or by the committee's appeals, which have been repeatedly voiced by this paper and in numerous other ways.

Chairman Stevenson appeals to the volunteer workers to stick to their task until the campaign is carried to a successful conclusion. The rest of us can lighten the labor of these unpaid volunteers and hasten the completion of their task by sending their checks or cash contributions during the next few days or as soon as possible. Remember Hancock County has never failed to meet its quota in any drive ever undertaken so let's not fail now and let down the greatest humanitarian organization ever known in this or any other time. Place yourself on the GIVING end of the line today, who knows when adversity may place you on the RECEIVING end.

GARDEN CLUBS JOIN IN SPONSORING OCEAN SPRINGS AND BILOXI TOURS

Several hundred residents and out of town guests attended the Pilgrimage of Ocean Springs and Biloxi gardens Sunday in spite of the inclement weather.

The two cities welcomed visitors to several gardens and historical places where coastal beauty and southern hospitality reigned.

Guests were directed to these various spots by Boy Scouts of Troop 219 directed by L. M. Page and the highway patrol.

Sponsoring the pilgrimage were eight garden clubs of Biloxi and Woman's Club of Ocean Springs. Mesdames Victor Pringle and Wallace Allred served as co-chairmen of the pilgrimage.

The Ocean Springs-Biloxi Garden tour was held in conjunction with the spring pilgrimage of the gulf coast. The tour has been held in recent weeks in Pascagoula, Moss Point and Gautier. It will take place next Sunday in Gulfport; April 9 and 10 in Long Beach; April 10 in Pass Christian and will close in Bay St. Louis and Waveland April 17.

Mrs. Harold Hutchinson, was chairman from the Woman's Club in Ocean Springs.

Home Demonstration Club Met Friday, Mar. 25th.

The Bay-Waveland Home Demonstration Club met on Friday afternoon, March 25, 1949, at the home of Mrs. George Lehtner. Fourteen members were present. After the business meeting, Miss Madge Allred, home demonstration agent, showed the members a simple method for making round button holes.

STANISLAUS TO HOLD INTRAMURAL BOXING TOURNAMENT

The Senior Class of Saint Stanislaus under the capable guidance of boxing Coach Dick Thames is sponsoring an intramural boxing tournament at the school. Although none of the varsity boxing team nor the first band is permitted to enter, close to a hundred boys are fighting in twelve weight classes from 60 to 180 lbs. In all there will be seventy three fights—fifteen semi-final fights being on Saturday night starting at 7:30, and the twelve finals on Monday, April 4th, starting at 7:30 P. M.

Quite a few interesting fights are anticipated, particularly in the unlimited class, where James Weithman and Luke Caruso meet, and Norton Haas and Clarence Kimball battle for the heavyweight title. Also in the 140 to 150 lb. class, where there are eight fights among the outstanding football and basketball players of St. Stanislaus.

Handling the tournament are members of the Senior Class under the leadership of Joseph David, the class President, and J. V. Morreale, Captain of the St. Stanislaus Championship boxing team.

The tournament is sponsored for the benefit of the Foreign Missions, conducted by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart. The public is invited and urged to attend. The prices for all sessions are 25c for adults and 10c for students.

serve for the ensuing year are Mrs. Kennedy, president; Mrs. H. A. Thompson, vice president; Mrs. John Husband, secretary and Mrs. P. J. Truetel, treasurer. Russian tea and cookies were served by the hostess and co-hostess Mrs. G. S. Kennedy.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

"They're Off," so says the starter (chairman in charge) of the American Legion Egg Derby. The entrants went to the post last Saturday, March 2, 1949, and the race is on. They have passed the quarter mark and are well on their way.

The race started officially at 9 A. M. on March 26th and should end some time on April 16th. The time for making investments is growing short so look up the odds and take your choice. You may pick the winner.

Lakeshore Home Demonstration Club Meets

The Lakeshore Home Demonstration Club met on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. George Montgomery, with a good number present, Mrs. Reginald Moran, president, presided. Mrs. Montgomery gave the devotional; Mrs. John Erskine, secretary, read the minutes of the preceding month. Mrs. Harry Stone gave the treasurer's report.

Coming up for discussion was the style show which will be held in June and each member will model a cotton frock which she will make herself.

The county style show will be held in July when all clubs in this county will participate.

Several members volunteered to attend the state council meeting to be held in Hattiesburg on April 3.

The subject for demonstration was seams and finishes and in the absence of Miss Madge Allred, Mrs. William Spence and Mrs. John Nease conducted the class in bound button holes.

Iced cookies were served with real home made fruit cake and a social hour was enjoyed.

Uncle of Mrs. Eugene Davis Dies In Wiggins

J. L. Holleman who had been ill for some time, died Friday night, at the Jackson Infirmary and was buried Sunday, March 27th in Wiggins, Miss., from the Dee's Baptist Chapel.

Mr. Holleman was a brother of the late T. V. Holleman of Logtown and an uncle of Mrs. Eugene Davis. He was born and reared in Gainesville, Miss. In 1904 he moved to Wiggins where he lived until his death. He was a pioneer lumberman, having been president of the Holleman-Batson Lumber Company in Logtown. At one time he was Mayor of Wiggins and a member of the School Board. He is survived by four daughters and four sons, a number of grand children, one sister, Mrs. H. W. Denham of Hattiesburg, Miss., and one brother Mr. Gerry Holleman of Pickens Miss.

The News of the Little Theatre

This is the week that all members of the Theatre have been awaiting, the formal opening and presentation of the 1949 productions. And what a thriller they have selected for the opening.

"Ten Little Indians" will keep the audience in suspense until the last Little Indian is no more. So don't forget all of you folks that have not as yet joined the Little Theatre, it is still not too late. You will certainly want to see this play and the many very fine ones that are to follow.

It is with a great deal of satisfaction that we make this announcement.

The next production "My Sister Eileen," has been cast, with a very excellent group of players taking the various roles. Cooperation has been so very evident in this casting, not alone with the actors, but with all units that will work together.

Mrs. Gladys Jones, is directing the art work, and she has a group of interested and enthusiastic women working with her, they have held meetings, and have formulated all the plans for the stage sets, have also acquired most of the props, and altogether deserve a rousing cheer for the way in which they have jumped to real honest to goodness work. Our genial stage manager Bill Smith has conferred with Mrs. Jones, and Bill as usual is coming up with a very fine stage for Mrs. Jones and her workers to make artistic. In charge of costumes and wardrobe will be Mrs. Laura Gray. Laura is well known to the fans for her excellent acting ability, and now she will earn justly deserved laurels for the taste par excellence with which she will dress up her cast. Next week we will introduce you to the cast, and maybe even tell you a little bit about the play, but not too much, as it will be so much fun that we want everyone in town to be sure and see it.

SOUTHERN COMPANY ELECTS L. P. SWEATT DIRECTOR

Mississippians Goes On Board of Major Southeast- ern Utility Company

At a meeting held in New York March 22nd, the board of directors of the Southern Company elected L. P. Sweatt, President of Mississippi Power Company, a director to succeed Jacob Hekma of New York, recently deceased.

Mr. Sweatt, who lives in Gulfport and will continue to serve as president of Mississippi Power Company, is also a member of the State Agricultural and Industrial Board, a director in The Commonwealth and Southern Corporation (Delaware), director of the Hancock Bank, Gulfport, member of the Advisory Council of the Southern Research Institute, and active in many civic groups.

With over thirty-five years in the electrical utility industry, he has spent twenty-five years in Mississippi. During that time Mississippi Power Company, with which he has been continuously in an executive position, has grown from serving 5,500 customers to more than 72,000 and has developed an extensive power system serving a large area.

The Southern Company, of which Mr. E. A. Yates is President, has offices in Atlanta, Georgia and New York, New York, was organized in 1945, and owns all the common stock of four large operating utility companies in the Southeast, these being Alabama Power Company, Georgia Power Company, Gulf Power Company, and Mississippi Power Company. The operating companies of this group serve directly over 800,000 electric customers in an area of about 94,000 square miles lying in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, and Mississippi. These companies have in operation electric generating plants with a capacity of over 1,500,000 kilowatts, and during 1949 their combined construction program for new generating transmission, distribution and other facilities will approximate $50,000,000.

In addition to Mr. Sweatt, other directors of the company are: G. H. Bourne, New York; W. H. Brantley, Jr., Birmingham, Ala.; Percy H. Clark, Philadelphia, Penn.; Robert T. Jones, Jr., Atlanta, Ga.; Dan McDougald, Atlanta, Ga.; Thomas W. Martin, Birmingham, Ala.; Beauchamp E. Smith, York, Penn.; Justin R. Whiting, Jackson, Mich.; Pearson Winslow, New York; and E. A. Yates New York.

Pulp and Prosperity

Forests provided the foundation for ship-building industries, maritime expansion and naval prowess with every country bordering on the sea. Even before Noah built his Ark to keep him and his cargo afloat until the flood receded, wood influenced the history of mankind. In every land and all ages, forests paved the way to progress and prosperity.

The wooden ship era passed with the coming of steel, but forest products are now employed for so many uses that trees are as important to our economy as they were essential to the pioneer.

Californians claim many sequoias are 1300 years older than our Christian Era... There are oaks standing on our shores that were there when Iberville established his colony at Old Biloxi 250 years ago. The original wealth of South Mississippi was gathered from our primeval forests as Gulfport led the world in the exportation of Long Leaf Pine.

Forestry, crops and pasture are the three major uses of all land. The earth is divided between woodland, grassland and desert. The principal causes of soil erosion are the removal of trees and breaking the top soil through cultivation. The story of civilization can be told in the terms of the axe, plow, the rain, erosion and, finally, the desert.

Anyone who has cleared new ground or turned a plow in South Mississippi knows that most of our land is unsuited for any purpose other than timber. Our soil, climate and rainfall are perfect for growing trees.

No crop in the Coast area yields so much value for as little effort. Trees provide shade, shelter and keep the soil from flowing into the sea. For building homes, making paper or plastics, lumber and pulp are vital to our economy.

Usually when we exploit our natural resources they are gone forever, but with little attention, our denuded forests grow back again.

There is no economy equivalent in ultimate returns to the conservation of our resources. Plant trees and prosper.

TECHNICAL ADVISOR EYE WITNESS OF HISTORICAL EVENT

In filming a story with historical significance it is necessary to take into account that many people still living have vivid memories of the place reproduced, having either been eye witnesses or gifted with strong imaginations. This was one of the biggest problems confronting Producers Robert L. Lippert and Carl K. Hittleman when they were preparing "I Shot Jesse James," featuring Preston Foster, Barbara Britton and John Ireland, coming to the A. & G. Theatre on the 5th and 6th.

Much of the action in the film centered near St. Joseph, Missouri, near which Jesse James, living as Tom Howard, was shot and killed. To minimize public criticism the producers engaged Ebert Lumsden, an old time resident of St. Joe, as they call it in Missouri, as technical adviser.

The elaborate street scenes had to be correct in detail. Lumsden saw to it that the sign on the drug store was set right, that the hitching post in front of the National Saloon was in order and that Joe Plant's Dry Goods Store looked as it did when he was a kid.

Lumsden, as a child, saw "Mr. Howard" walking the streets of St. Joe and he remembers vividly the muddy main street and the excitement that ensued when Bob Ford walked to the Sheriff's office and confessed that he had just slain Jesse James, and demanded amnesty and the $10,000 reward.

Lumsden also helped in casting the players who portray the historical characters in "I Shot Jesse James." They include, in addition to the stars, J. Edward Bromberg, Reed Hadley, Victor Killen, Margia Dean and many others.

Rules And Regulations For Teen-Age Club At Youth Center

A business meeting of the Teen Age Club was held on Saturday night. At this meeting, Mr. Joe Burrows, Cashier of the Merchants Bank and Trust Company, of Bay St. Louis, who has sponsored the building of the Youth Center, made a short talk and read and discussed the rules and regulations governing the operation of the club.

The following are the house rules of the Youth Center.

The House Rules Of Your Youth Center Consist Of Twenty Three DON'TS and LET'S

1. Don't deface the building.
2. Don't leave the building as you will not be allowed to re-enter.
3. Don't linger on the grounds at any time, either in parked cars or on your way to the Youth Center.
4. Don't invite any visitor whom you cannot feel responsible for. Acquaint him or her in advance with our rules and regulations to avoid embarrassment.
5. Don't wear clacks, shorts, or jeans, girls, except on special occasions.
6. Don't wear jeans, overalls, or tennis shoes, boys, except on special occasions.
7. Don't dance unless you are in the teen age group, as a member or a guest.
8. Don't hold bull sessions on dance floor or in the halls.
9. Don't smoke except around the snack bar.
10. Don't leave snack-bar with drinks or eats.
11. Don't fail to clear tables around snack-bar of bottles and papers when you have finished your refreshments.
12. Don't use chairs set aside for visiting parents.
13. Don't fail to arrange games and books where they belong, when you have finished with them.
14. Don't be roughnecks: Keep your voice down.
15. Don't whistle, box or run in the building.
16. Don't play pranks on anyone.
17. Don't bring intoxicating drinks or profanity.
18. Don't throw paper on the floor. Waste paper baskets are available.
19. Don't BY ALL MEANS throw cigarette butts on floor. Ash trays are available.

78 YEARS SERVING HANCOCK COUNTY

PROGRAM OUTLINED TRAVEL PROMOTION

A 7-point program to help Hancock County get a bigger share of Mississippi's two hundred million dollar annual tourist and recreation business was outlined here Thursday night, March 24, 1949, by T. D. Davis, Field Representative of the State's Agricultural and Industrial Board of Jackson, Mississippi. The meeting was presided over by Mayor Warren Carver who was named by Governor Fielding Wright as Chairman of the County Travel Promotion Committee. The program as outlined by Mr. Davis is:

1. To create a community consciousness of the opportunities and responsibilities that lie in Community Travel Promotion.
2. To make the community more attractive physically.
3. To know and develop local attractions and entertainments.
4. To be able to describe tourist attractions in other communities in Mississippi.
5. To learn more about the geography and history of our State.
6. To be able to give clear and accurate highway information.
7. To put that traditional Southern Hospitality to work.

104,000 Pine Seedlings Planted In Hancock County

One hundred and four thousand slash pine seedlings were donated to twenty-nine individuals in Hancock County by the International Paper Company. The seedlings were a part of 605,500 donated by the Company for planting on private lands in Mississippi this year. County Agent, H. F. Simmons and Sam Whitfield, pulpwood dealer, handled the details of getting these seedlings delivered to the County and distributed to the farmers.

An inspection of the planting done on Mr. Whitfield's land revealed a successful stand. Persons who received the seedlings from the Company are Sam Whitfield, Cornelius Favre, C. D. Wahl, C. C. Wahl, B. S. Thomas, Jack Lott, Charlie Hoda, Elvie E. Neale, Hollis Ladner, Wilmer Ladner, Norton Haas, Forest Lee, Erastus Saucier, Albert Ladner M. G.
